The five-bedroom, seven-bathroom brick-and-stone home was built by Jurij Sennecke of Divine Homes, with interior design by his wife, Candice Olsen, host of TV's Divine Design.

The two-storey home is built on a south hill, so the back of the house expands to a third walkout garden level, Ms. Howell says.

Features of the home include a living room with a brick fireplace, a dining room with a gas fireplace and a kitchen with a walkout to a deck. There's a main-floor family room and library, both with built-in shelves and gas fireplaces. The lower-level family room and combination recreation/exercise room both have walkouts to the garden.

The lot has a private driveway, a built-in three-car garage and parking for seven cars.

HIGHEST PRICE SALE IN LAWRENCE PARK

Twenty-five Sunnydene sold for the highest price in Lawrence Park to date, says listing agent Trelawny Howell. The buyer got a good deal. The house was originally listed for $205,000 more and had just been reduced before an open house, where the buyer saw the home, she says.

The size and location of the lot — a 76x242-foot ravine lot on a crescent — plus a new 8,600-sq.-ft. home are among the reasons it commanded top dollar, she says.
